

Sonia Marroquin-Smith joined the City of Edinburg as the Director of Human Resources/Civil Service in April 2013 and in November 2013 was selected to serve as the Assistant City Manager. She currently oversees several city departments and has also been involved with several development projects to include a $10 million sports and wellness center, $88 million event arena, and a $24 million soccer stadium.

Before coming to the City of Edinburg, Sonia began her career in municipal government serving as the Deputy City Manager for the City of Mission for five years. Prior to her position with the City of Mission, Sonia worked as an administrator for Child Nutrition Programs for approximately 16 years at Valley View, Brownsville, and La Joya school districts.

Sonia has a Bachelor of Science from the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley (formerly University of Texas Pan American) and is a Certified Public Manager. She is currently an active member of the National Association of Professional Women, Texas and International City Management Associations, and the Texas Municipal Human Resources Association.
